ADAM RAMIREZ

FRONT-END DEVELOPER

"Hello, I'm Adam Ramirez, a Web Developer from Guadalajara. I'm passionate about design and solving seemingly difficult problems. I specialize in creating amazing, responsive designs and writing JavaScript and Angular code."

EXPERIENCE.

"Teleperformance.

I worked as a Call Center Agent, providing my services to Enterprise for car rentals. I helped U.S. customers with their reservations, extending their rental time and clarifying their questions."

STUDY.

I am currently in my sixth semester of a Systems Engineering degree, with a strong focus on Frontend software development.

I specialize in technologies such as Angular and TypeScript, which I have strengthened through online courses (Udemy) and by continuously building personal projects to apply and solidify my knowledge.

Additionally, I receive professional mentorship from a senior developer who helps me improve my code quality and enhance my skills.

I also develop my programming logic through the CodeWars platform, solving challenges in creative and efficient ways to sharpen my problem-solving abilities.

Languages.

Spanish.
English level: B1/B2
